

Test Product Readme File (PRF)

This type of document will include information about the latest version of a given S5P TROPOMI data product (example, NO₂). Information about changes between versions, and anomalies affecting the data product as well as overall quality information and high-level summary of validation results for this data product will be included.